PARIS, April 16.

ARMY OF ITALY.

Head-quarters, Clagenfurth, 12th Germinal, (April 12.)

CITIZENS DIRECTORS,
"I have in my last dispatches given you an account of the battles of Fre-viva and Lachinfa. On the 8th (March 28,) the 3 divisions of the army, after having passed the defiles which lead into Germany from the Venetian flats, encamped at Villach, on the borders of the Drave.

"Gen. Massena, put himself in movement with his division, on the 9th and about a league from Clagenfurth he fell in with the enemy's army, took two pieces of cannon, and 200 prisoners. We entered Clagenfurth the same night, and prince Charles, with the ruins of his army, is flying before us.

"Our head-quarters are this day between St. Veit and Friezach. Gen.
Buonaparte's division is at Laubach, the capital of Carniola. I have detached the Polish gen. Zajonczek, at the head of a body of cavalry, for the purpose of penetrating to Lientz, by the valley of the Drave, and effecting a junction between me and gen.
Joubert, who is at Brixen. It should take place about the present time.

"Since the beginning of the campaign, Prince Charles has lost near 20,000 men,—who are our prisoners.
The inhabitants of Carniola and Ca-rinthia have the most inexplicable contempt for the administrations of Vienna and Great Britain. The English nation possessest so completely the hated and execration of the continent, that I believe if the war continues yet for four time, the English will be so universally detested, that no part of it whatever will grant them a reception.

"Here, then, are the enemies entirely driven from the States of Venise! The Upper and Lower Carniola, Carinthia, the district of Trieste and all the Tyrol, are subjected to the arms of the Republic.

"We have found near Villach, a magazine of iron, shot, cartridges and powder, mines of lead, tin, iron, &c.
We have also found near Clagenfurth, manufactories of arms and cloth.

(Signed) B. J. HALE.

Another letter from Buonaparte, of the same date, announces three new engagements. That of Lavis, where Joubert and Baraneguy d'Hilliers surrounded (on the 30th Ventose) a body of the enemy on the Lavis, and after an obstinate action, took 4000 prisoners, killed 2000 men, & carried off 3 pieces of cannon and 2 standards.
That of Tramin (on the 2d Germinal) in which gen. Dumas took 600 prisoners, and 2 pieces of cannon.
This success prevented the ruins of London's column from arriving at Brussels. And that of Clausten, where we routed the enemy in the most decisive manner, and took 1500 prisoners. We are masters of Brixen and Botzen, where we have found magazines of all kinds of military stores.

April 23.

It is stated as a certain fact, that the minister of external relations has written to the commissioners of the treasury, not to pay any sums due to the Americans. Has Charles Dela-croix had the dexterity to break altogether an alliance which Robespierre himself respected? He is without doubt ignorant how much our commerce and marine cities will suffer from this measure, and what immense advantages this rupture will hold out to England.

April 26.

Barriere has been chosen Deputy to the legislative body, by the electoral assembly of Turbes.

The Apollo Belvidere, and 12 waggons filled with part of the precious articles of the fine arts agreed to be given up, by the treaty with the Pope, are now on their way to Paris.

The news of the preliminaries of peace with the Emperor having been signed, was announced at six o'clock yesterday evening, by repeated discharges of artillery. All the workmen quitted their shops. An inconceivable crowd rushed into the streets and upon the quays: the joy was universal, and all joined in crying Vive la Paix! Vive la Paix! (Long be the peace.)

Buonaparte, commander in chief of the army in Italy, to the Executive Directory.

Head-quarters at Jundenberg,

"April 8, 1797.

CITIZENS DIRECTORS,

"I have the honor to transmit to you the letter which I wrote prince Charles, and his answer.

"You will find hereunto annexed the note which has been sent by gen.
Bellegarde and Morveldt; the answer of which, I have given them; and finally, the conditions of the suspension of arms which we have concluded. You will remark by the line of demarcation, that we find ourselves in possession of Graz, Bruck, and Rosenau, places of which we were not before in possession. My intention is, besides, to give the army two or three days rest, so that this suspension very little deranges the military operations.

(Signed) BUONAPARTE.

Jundenberg, April 8.

"His majesty the emperor and king having nothing so much at heart as what can conduce to the repose of Europe, and to the termination of war which devolutes the two nations, has in consequence of the overture which was made to his royal highness by your letter from Clagenfurth, sent in to you to come to some understanding on an object of so great importance.

"After the conversation which we have held with you, and persuaded of the good will and of the intentions of the powers, to finish with the utmost promptitude possible, this disastrous war, his royal highness desires a suspension of hostilities for ten days, in order to be able with more celerity to attain this desirable object, and in order that all the delays and obstructions that the continuation of hostilities would throw in the way of negotiation be done away, and that every thing may occur towards the re-establishment of peace between the two nations.

(Signed)

"The COUNT de BELLEGARDE, Lieutenant General.

"MORVELDT, Major General.
(A true Copy.) BUONAPARTE."

To the Generals Bellegarde and Morveldt.

Head-quarters Jundenberg,

April 8, 1797.

Citizens,

"In the military situation of the two armies, a suspension of hostilities is quite adverse to the French army, but if it can pave the way to the peace so much desired, and so useful to the two countries, I consent without difficulty to your request.

"The French Republic has often shewn his majesty her desire to put an end to this cruel slaughter. She persists in the same sentiments, and I have no doubt, after the conference which I had the honor of having with you that in a few days peace will be finally re-established between the French Republic and his Imperial majesty.

"I beg of you to give me credit for the sentiments of esteem, and distinguished consideration with which "I am, gentlemen yours,

CONDITIONS OF THE CESSION OF HOSTILITIES.

Gen. Buonaparte, commander in chief of the French army in Italy, and his royal highness the archduke Charles, commander in chief of the Imperial army, willing to facilitate the negotiations for peace, which are on the point of being opened, agree as follows:

Article 1. There shall be a suspension of arms between the French and Imperial armies from this evening, the 7th of April, to the 13th of April.

2d The French army shall keep the following line: the advanced posts of the right wing of this army shall remain in the position in which they at present are, between Lune and Triebe—the line shall be extended so as to comprehend Triesen, Litra, Windenfels, Marburg, Chienhousen, the right bank of the Mohr, Leoban, Traityax, Bland, the road Irding, the valley of La Drave and Linz.

3. The suspension of arms shall take place equally in the Tyrol, and the generals commanding the French and imperial troops in that part, shall settle together, the posts that they are to occupy.

Hostilities shall not commence in the Tyrol, until twenty-four hours after the commander in chief shall have agreed to it: or, at least, not till twenty-four hours after the generals commanding the French and Imperial troops in the Tyrol, shall have been reciprocally apprised of it.

LIVERPOOL, May 6.

We slop the press just to insert the following extract of a letter just received from Hull.

"A neutral vessel from Hamburg is just received here with the intelligence of accounts and confirmed papers having reached Hamburg last Thursday, of the Emperor having concluded a separate peace."

DUBLIN, April 24.

An alarm we are to suppose on unfiable grounds, has reached the ear of government. The yeomanry of Dublin have been called upon, pickets from every corps, to the amount collectively of three hundred men, have in consequence mounted guards in various parts of the city and its liberties; patrols are established; tozins are appointed at the Royal Hospital, St. Michan's, the College, and St. Mary's; signal guns are stait-ed at the Grand Canal, Stepen's Green, and the Barracks, and a Howitzer, with its apparatus planted at the Castle!

There are at present five regiments of Militia and tories in our garrison, each possessing two brass field pieces. This force one should imagine, was fully equal to the preservation of peace, without calling on the yeomanry to stand to their arms every night, to mount guard and patrol in every quarter of the city. Great indeed must be the fear which ministers entertain of public disaffection, when they resort to such a measure.

LONDON, May 4.

An expedition is equipping in England against Chili and Peru.

On some trifling advantages gained recently by the Imperial troops over the French in Italy, it is said the inhabitants of Verona in Venice, addicted and destroyed 300 French in the hospitals in that city. In consequence, it is adduced, Ancreux ordered that city to be set fire to, and destroyed, and and demanded other satisfaction of the Doge, which was of necessity granted.

NEW-YORK, June 21.

Among the various vessels which a sootherly breeze planted in our harbour yesterday, is the brig Orion, Capt. Shaw, in 35 days from Cork; by which we have received Cork papers to the tenth of May; containing London dates to the 6th, two days later than before received. No very important event it seems had occurred from the 4th to the above date, except a confirmation of a separate peace with the Emperor. From the last Cork paper we copy the following:

Stocks experienced a further depreciation yesterday. Consuls were down to low as 48; Imperial three per cents at 44; and the new loan at three fourth premium.

May 6.

The Hamburg mail due on Wednesday last, arrived this day at noon.
The Vienna Court Gazette of the 1st inst. does not mention the signing of the preliminaries of peace; but only the prolongation of the Armistice between the Archduke Charles and Gen. Buonaparte to the 26th; but letters from several parts of Germany state, that Preliminaries of peace were signed at the head quarters of Gen. Buonaparte on the 18th.

The Nuremberg Gazette of the 12th ult. contains the following article:

"Yesterday the 21st, at seven in the evening, a courier passed through this town, with intelligence that peace was concluded and signed on the 18th ult. at Gollern in Upper Syria."

None of the foreign papers make any mention of the conditions.

We communicated to the public, in part of our impulsion yesterday, that government had received dispatches from Vienna, with an account of the signing of the preliminaries of peace on the 18th ult. between the French Republic and the Emperor. A copy of these preliminaries has not yet arrived the messenger having set out from Vienna immediately after they were received by the Austrian Cabinet. They contain however the leading principles upon which the separate peace between the Republic and the Emperor is to be negatived. The Netherlands of course are given up to the French Republic extends itself to the Rhine.

The concerns of the Members of the Germanic Empire, who are at war with France, or who have been deprived of territorial possessions by making the Rhine the boundary of the Republic, are to be discussed and decided on in a congress to be held at Basle to which it is stipulated Great Britain may send a minister with powers to negotiate a general peace." A celeration of hostilities on the continent has been agreed upon; and we should now indulge the fond hope that the blessings of peace would soon be restored to Great Britain; if we had the happiness to have any other administration than the present, but under such Minstrels can expectations be sanguine? Can we rationally hope that those who entered into the war so rashly, will even now be eager to make peace? or can we believe that men who have conducted the war so disgracefully, will be able to termin-ate it honorably? It is indeed such men that the sentiments of the French towards the English Government have assumed a character and complexion which is horridly described in the Gazette of the 28th ult. a paper attached to the Directory, and siccened to be one of the most noisome.

All the accounts from Vienna represent the alarm that prevailed there before the signing of the Preliminaries to have been extreme. The head quarters of the republican army were but 8 miles from Vienna. Most of the Royal family had fled. The Ambassadors had made preparations for their departure at a moment's notice. The Archives, Chancery, &c. had been packed up and sent off and many of the Nobles and men of property had taken flight with their most valuable effects.

SACRED TO THE MUSES.

The SABBATH.

Still be rever'd the faired hours of rest,
And be the Sabbath day never blie!— Whether man labors with the utmost toil, Man may a globe or turn the faithful foil; Whether he guides the harrow or the helm; Rules o'er a district or conducts a realm;
One day in seven is to rest affig'd,
And pride to him who gave the human mind.
Then let each heart adore the God of truth, Let age, respect him!—and cover him youth!
Let sons of freedom bow to him alone!
And let all nature his dominion own!
